

1. sleep

file : xsh_sleep.c

description : delay for the specified number of seconds

system calls : sleep

2. kill

file : xsh_kill.c

description : kill the process with the specified process ID. If the process is the null process (PID = 0)

function immediately returns.

system calls : kill

3. cat

file : xsh_cat.c

description : reads one or more files and output the content of each file to standard output.

system call : putc

4. memdump

file : xsh_memdump.c

description : takes in two arguments, a starting address and a length. This will dump the content of length number bytes starting from the starting address into standard output. The content will be dumped in ascii and hex formats.

system calls :